

JOURNALISMTRAINING.ORG

Training is power

JournalismTraining.org is an interactive, Web-based tool to help you quickly find the classes, conferences, and seminars you need to advance your career. The searchable database of local, regional and national journalism training programs lets you compare all options and determine which training best meets your individual needs. JournalismTraining.org brings together those seeking training and those best equipped to provide it.

Areas of Study

Whatever skill you need to enhance, JournalismTraining.org is likely to have the perfect fit. Choose from thousands of classes and seminars on diverse topics such as:

- freedom of information
- editing and publishing
- legal issues
- diversity
- ethics
- convergence
- design
- photojournalism
- information graphics
- television and radio
- newsroom management
- writing

More than 250 journalism organizations, training institutes, individuals and academic institutions that provide journalism training list their courses on JournalismTraining.org – providers you can trust. Trainers must be screened by the Council of National Journalism Organization's Training Committee before being allowed to post.

Site Collaborators

Society of Professional Journalists

SPJ was founded in 1909 to protect and improve journalism. The Society continues to be a driving force in the promotion of free flowing information vital to a well-informed public. They work to inspire the next generation of journalists and to protect First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech and the press.

Council of National Journalism Organizations

Founded in 1991, the Council encourages collaboration and idea sharing among national news and editorial organizations. More than two dozen member organizations work to improve the news media through a focus on increased administrative efficiency, high professional standards, minorities and pluralism, and technical-professional innovation.

About the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation

The private foundation was established in 1950, independent of the Knight brothers' newspaper enterprises. It is dedicated to furthering the ideals of service to the community, to the highest standards of journalistic excellence, and to the defense of a free press.

History of JournalismTraining.org

JournalismTraining.org was created in 2003 to foster collaboration among diverse educators. The site was developed by the Society of Professional Journalists for the Council of National Journalism Organizations. It is funded by a grant from the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation.

How to use

JournalismTraining.org makes finding the training you need simple. Our one-click basic search can be done in seconds.

1. Just log on to www.JournalismTraining.org
2. Enter your zip code and search terms
3. Submit the search
4. Get the training

Too many options? Narrow your search with the powerful "Advanced Search" feature.

Can't remember to log in every week? Simply, sign up to "Stay Informed" and you don't have to. Just tell us the type of training events you're interested in, and we'll send you an alert each week tailored to your training goals.

Simple, quick, and powerful. JournalismTraining.org puts the power of world-class training at your fingertips. Log on today.

If your organization offers classes, conferences, seminars, or workshops that you'd like journalists to know about, we welcome you to visit the site and apply. Once approved, your organization can publicize training opportunities on JournalismTraining.org.

